

FURTHER ADVANCE BY THE BRITISH

Hamilton Follows Boers to Nealwelkt Fighting All the Way.

KROONSTADT IS NEXT

Expected That a Most Decisive Battle Will Be Fought There Very Soon.

HUNTER CROSSES THE VAAL

London, May 5.—[Special Cablegram]—A further advance of the British army is reported this morning. Following is a dispatch from Gen. Roberts from Brandfort: "Hamilton advanced Friday to Neal Welkt and engaged the enemy throughout the day." He praises the behavior of the troops, especially Broadwood's cavalry and the mounted infantry.

The British are rapidly nearing Kroonstadt where military men believe one of the most decisive battles of the war will be fought.

Views on the Situation

News of the occupation of Brandfort is generally considered the most important communication received from the front since the capture of General Cronje and the relief of Ladysmith. The fact that the position gives the key to one of the main roads leading to the Drakensberg passes, which possibly may be the means of cooperation with General Buller later on, provides an advance base of supplies, etc., and at the same time menaces the Boers now southeast of Bloemfontein, is obviously the reason for the importance attached by all hands to the intelligence.

Marching in Several Columns

Lord Roberts seems to be marching his army in three or four columns. On the right General Brabant has reached a point twenty miles from Wepener, on the Ladybrand road. In the center Lord Roberts, with the infantry, has reached Brandfort, fourteen miles from Karsse-Siding, and the mounted infantry has reached the Vet River, nineteen miles north of Brandfort.

Hunter Crosses the Vaal

On the left General Hunter crossed the Vaal river without opposition at Windsorton, and is expected to turn the Boer position at Fourteen Streams without trouble. Nothing has been said in any of the recent dispatches about Lord Methuen's force at Boshof or of the Natal army, but the war experts insist that both will move in support of Lord Roberts.

The farthest point so far reached in the advance is just thirty-three miles north from Bloemfontein. Of the Boer forces outside of the Free State 2,000 are on the northern frontier, 4,000 at Biggarsburg, and 1,500 below Mafeking.

British Six Inch Gun Opens

Warrenton, Cape Colony, May 5.—A British six-inch wire gun opened unexpectedly on the Boer laager at a distance of seven and a half miles, throwing 100-pound shells with wonderful accuracy and causing a hasty retreat of the burghers. The bombardment continued Friday at all points by howitzers and field guns, supported by two companies of the Munster regiment, the Boers being driven from shelter and their guns being put out of action.

SENATOR FORAKER HAS BEEN CHOSEN

He Will Make the Speech Nominating McKinley for the Presidency at Philadelphia.

New York, May 5.—Joseph H. Manley of Maine was at the Fifth Avenue hotel today and had talks with several politicians concerning the seating arrangements on the Philadelphia convention. Some of the local leaders, who talked with Mr. Manley, said that it had been practically settled by the national republican managers that Senator Wolcott of Colorado will be temporary chairman of the convention, and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts will be permanent chairman.

It had also been settled that Senator Foraker of Ohio should make the speech nominating Mr. McKinley. Mr. Hanna's plan, it was further stated, was to bring Gov. Roosevelt forward to second the nomination, but the governor has not yet consented to make the second speech. He will see President McKinley today, it was said, and this part of the program will then be settled definitely.

Breaking Up on the Shoals

MAY HAVE PERISHED IN FIRE

Wisconsin Family Missing in the Burned Timber District

Marinette, Wis., May 5.—David Malfon, wife and child, residing near Crivitz, are supposed to have perished in the forest fire near that place. The flames are still burning and it is impossible to make a thorough search.

When Malfon and his family were missed the neighbors went in search of them. They found his house and barns burned, but no trace of the family.

It is believed they stayed to save their homestead until it was too late for them to escape and they were overtaken by the fire.

Wausau, Wis., May 5.—The forest fire which have been raging in the woods surrounding this city during the last week are daily becoming more alarming. The farmers living near the fires have their household goods packed, so that a timely escape can be made if the fire reach their houses.

The Mayor of Hatley, ten miles east of here, asked for fire engines and men today, as the fire threatened the destruction of the village.

LITTLE CHILDREN HUG AND KISS HIM

TOTS FORCE DEWEY TO SURRENDER AT ST. LOUIS.

Remarkable Reception Tendered to the Hero of Manila Bay Yesterday Afternoon—10,000 Children Sing for and Cheer the Admiral—Make Him Cry for Quarter.

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—Admiral Dewey has surrendered. The man who destroyed the sea power of Spain in the Philippines was forced to capitulate in St. Louis yesterday afternoon. A small boy, assisted by a petite girl companion, effected his capture, while 10,000 other children witnessed the onslaught and saw the chief of a great navy made captive.

The admiral and Mrs. Dewey came into the Coliseum to listen to the songs of the children of the Sunday school union. The band crashed out "The Coming of the King" as the children sang the words, and then, after a moment's pause, came "I Will Shout His Praise in Glory," the chorus of the youngsters being "So will I, so will I." Taken up by the 20,000 adults who crowded into the building, the sound wave rolled and reverberated until it seemed as if the structure must fall.

Gift-Bearers Win With Kisses.

It was at this moment that a couple of tots, escorted by half a dozen brawny policemen, were forced through the dense multitude, lifted up in front of the admiral and held so that they might be able to present him and his wife with a souvenir of the occasion. The boy held a silken banner, on which was embroidered the music of "On Land and Sea," a composition of Bandmaster Fafano, while his companion tightly grasped a finely bound volume of the songs which the juvenile chorus sung to the man of the anchors and stars. The banner was for Mrs. Dewey.

The children handed their gifts to the admiral, and as he bent forward the boy curled his arm about the neck of the sailor. Quick to imitate, the girl sprung from the shoulders of the man who held her, and as Dewey straightened up he had both children in his arm.

Surrenders Unconditionally.

And they kissed the admiral until he cried for quarter and said: "My dears, I surrender unconditionally." Then he set them down as the cheers rang through the place, and felt for his handkerchief, explaining that the sun was so bright it caused his eyes to water.

The bandmaster was watching—for the two children were his—and as he saw them safely planted at the admiral's side he raised his baton. The band crashed out "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." The admiral came, to "attention" and stood erect until the music ceased, but he held to the hands of the children and kissed them, hood-by at parting.

Call Dewey a Peach.

It was children's day with an enthusiastic spontaneity which was remarkable in the Coliseum the juveniles brave in color and all armed with flags, gave the admiral sincere, hearty welcome. They sang for him. They wanted to know what was the matter with Dewey, and answered their own query with a tumultuous "He's all right." Still unsatisfied, they demanded to know "who's all right," and still glad to answer their own question they roared in mighty chorus, "Admiral Dewey."

But this Sunday school children in the seats were not the only ones to make a noise. The urchins of the streets, both white and colored, found their way into the arena after the admiral came, and they were as familiar terms in a minute. They called him "little George" and told him he was a "peach." They advised him to be a "good boy" until they were old enough to vote. It was the first political hint of the trip, and one of the members of the entertainment committee murmured: "It's a good thing for us that the kids can't vote."

BURNING OIL SET THE RIVER ON FIRE

Fourteen Tanks of Oil Explode at Varnish Works on Staten Island.

LOSS IS OVER $250,000

Country Illuminated for Miles and a Magnificent Sight Is Presented.

WAS VERY NEAR A CALAMITY

New York, May 5.—The Standard Varnish works at Elm Park, S. I., were discovered to be on fire this morning and the whole works were for a time threatened with destruction.

The fire presented a magnificent sight. The varnish and materials escaping from the great tanks as they blew up flowed over the yard and out upon the waters of the Kill von Kull. The blaze from the various oils illuminated the country for miles.

The flames broke out about midnight from an unknown cause. There was first an explosion that shook buildings for a radius of a mile and then the fire became apparent to all in that vicinity. It is believed that there was an explosion of the gases in one of the large tanks connected with the works.

The Flames Spread Rapidly.

The flames spread rapidly. Fire engines from Port Richmond were soon on the scene and a general alarm was sent in calling all of the apparatus from the north shore of Staten Island. Within an hour four of the big tanks had blown up. Each of these tanks contained 5,000 gallons of material.

The firemen were driven back again and again, but kept up their efforts to save the buildings of the plant. These are of brick, one story high and cover several acres.

Fire tugs from the Standard Oil works at Bayonne were early ordered to the scene but they could not approach the main blaze and they were compelled to confine their efforts to keep the burning oils from floating down the Kills to points where ships and boats were tied up.

At 1 o'clock the fire had extended over so great an area that it was in danger of getting away from the control of the tugs.

Oil Set Tugs on Fire

Time and again the oils were carried to the tugs, which had to turn their hose upon each other in order to save themselves. To have let the fire escape down the Kills would have not only endangered the docks and boats along the Staten Island shore, but under the influence of the current the blaze might have been carried across to the coal docks and oil works in Bayonne.

The tugs managed to hold the fire in check upon the water while the firemen on shore fought them back from the buildings. Each of the tanks blew up within two hours. Each explosion threw the burning contents in every direction, and repeatedly endangered the lives of the firemen and sent the fire among the buildings.

After a hard fight lasting up to 10 o'clock this morning, the flames on the river were gotten under control before any great damage was done to dock property. Fourteen tanks of oil had been blown up and the damage will reach $250,000.

EMPERORS TO SEE THE SHAM BATTLE

Crowds So Great Under den Linden in Berlin That Eighty Persons Were Seriously Injured.

Berlin, May 5.—[Special Cablegram]—The city is en fête for tomorrow's celebration. Emperors William and Joseph accompanied by a splendid suite left this morning to witness the sham battle.

Last night after the dispersal of the troops the pressure of people was so great under den Linden that many persons were thrown down and trampled upon. When the police finally controlled the situation they found eighty persons seriously injured and hundreds of others slightly.

STATE OF KANSAS IS IN A BAD FIX

Decision of the Supreme Court Leaves the State Without Any Railroad Law.

Topeka, Kansas, May 5.—[Special Telegram]—The state supreme court in a decision today declared the law creating court visitation unconstitutional, which means leaving Kansas without any railroad law whatever, the former laws having been repealed when the court visitation law was created.

CONGRESS WILL BE BUSY NEXT WEEK

Principal Interest Will Center Around the Big Appropriation Bills.

MORE RURAL DELIVERY

Farmers of Wisconsin Exerting Strong Pressure for Extension of Mail Routes

FINANCIAL LAW IS A SUCCESS

Washington, May 5.—[Special Telegram]—Private claim bills, preparation of the code laws for the District of Columbia and the military academy appropriation bills will occupy the attention of the house next week.

In the senate the Philippine bill will remain unfinished business. There is but little disposition to push it until the more important appropriation bills become laws, four of which are still in conference, Indian, District of Columbia, army and agricultural.

The naval bill reported yesterday will be called up early in the week and will provoke a lively discussion on account of the armor plate provision.

The consideration of the Clark case set for Thursday promises to be more stubborn than was anticipated, no one ventures the prediction when it will be disposed of.

Increase of Rural Delivery

Strong pressure is constantly made upon the postoffice department and upon representatives for increases in the rural free delivery routes. Complaints are constantly coming to Wisconsin members on account of failure to establish routes which were applied for months ago. It is said at the department that action will be taken on the applications as soon as possible. The fact is, however, that in the states forming the Northwest branch, including Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas, there are now on file in the department more than 1,200 applications for routes, and the department officials find it impossible to keep up with the demands.

Divine Healers Under the Ban

Divine healers have come under the ban of the postoffice department, and in a few days an order will be issued barring them from the use of the mails. The department has been gathering information respecting the methods of these divine healers for a month or more, and it is now so well convinced their business is illegitimate that it is the purpose of the officials to institute a general raid.

No Collector Provided For.

Notwithstanding the public attention attracted by the Porto Rican bill and its prolonged discussion in congress, it is discovered now it has become a law that it is imperfect in many important features. Against public sentiment a majority in the house and senate insisted upon placing a tax on Porto Rican products, but, strange as it may seem, the bill failed to provide for the appointment of a collector of customs for the island.

Financial Law a Success.

Representative Brosius of Pennsylvania, today made a statement on the workings of the recently enacted financial bill. The statement said in part: "The refunding provisions of the law are working out an achievement in finance without a parallel in the history of the world. Amount refunded, $260,020,760; saving in interest, $32,699,225; premium paid, $26,034,771; net saving, $8,664,454."

Mr. Brosius' statement shows that the total number of applications approved for new national banks is 244, with a capital of $8,380,000. The total of applications on file for authority to organize national banks is 508, the total applications for the conversion of old banks into national banks 332, making a total of all kinds of new bank organizations of 890.

SHIVELY OUT FOR VICE PRESIDENT

HE SEEMS TO HAVE THE STAMP OF BRYAN'S APPROVAL.

The Silver Leader Made a Mysterious Visit to South Bend Yesterday and a Secret Conference is Held—Long is Scheduled to Run With McKinley.

South Bend, Ind., May 5.—Benjamin F. Shively, lifetime friend of William J. Bryan and democratic nominee for governor of Indiana in 1896, announced his candidacy for vice president after a nine hour secret conference with the Nebraskaan here today. The manner of his entrance into the race gives his candidacy the stamp of Bryan approval, and it is confidently predicted that if he needs assistance from the free silver leaders it will not be lacking.

Coincident with the announcement of Mr. Shively's aspiration to second place on the national ticket came the statement that he has withdrawn as a seeker of the nomination for governor again, an honor which had practically been conceded to him. This, it is believed, gives Mayor Taggart of Indianapolis, a clear field for the gubernatorial prize.

Conference is Significant

Politicians see great significance in the manner in which yesterday's conference was brought about. Mr. Bryan, who is not prone to concealing his doings from the public, and especially from newspaper men, tried to keep his visit to South Bend a secret. Had it not been for his recognition by a newsboy when he alighted from a Lake Shore passenger train his coming and going might have escaped notice.

The news that he had come to see Mr. Shively quickly spread, and when the latter announced himself as "willing to accept the vice presidential nomination in case it should be offered" to him the subject under consideration was at once deduced.

To an intimate friend Mr. Bryan stated after the conference that he had no preference as to who should be his running mate, but from his close friendship with Mr. Shively he undoubtedly would not object to having the South Bend man as a coworker. Mr. Bryan remained here until 2:30 o'clock, when he left for Valparaiso. In that city last night he addressed 4,000 persons in the college auditorium.

May be McKinley and Long.

Washington, May 5.—McKinley and Long against Bryan and Schley is the latest presidential combination predicted by many of the political prophets of congress. If it shall turn out that these are the tickets of course the Sampson-Schley war and the battle of Santiago will have to be fought over again in every voting precinct in the United States.

The impression that Secretary Long may be named by the republicans and Admiral Schley by the democrats is strengthened by utterance of the two national chairmen—Senators Hanna and Jones.

"If Governor Roosevelt persists in refusing the honor and Senator Allison will not have it," said Senator Hanna today, "in my opinion we shall nominate Secretary Long. We certainly will not have Mr. Woodruff."

"We might do a great deal worse than to put Admiral Schley on the ticket with Bryan," said Senator Jones, "and if the republicans name Secretary Long that will be an additional reason why Schley would make a good candidate for us."

Gen. Otis Sails For Home.

Manila, May 4.—[Special Cablegram]—Gen Otis sailed at four o'clock for home. He was given military honors.

BUSY METHODISTS WORK IN CHICAGO

Animated Scenes on the Floor of the Conference This Morning.

FIRST NEGRO BISHOP

Reform Proposals of All Kinds Embraced in Memorials and Resolutions.

BOMB THROWN AT BISHOPS

Chicago, May 5.—[Special Telegram]—The business session of the Methodist conference began at 9 o'clock this morning. Bishop Walden presiding. Struggling under an avalanche of memorials and resolutions, the general conference began today the real business of its long session.

Animated Scene On the Floor.

Hardly a great reform which has been agitated by Methodists in the past four years but was proposed under one aspect or another in the memorials that were submitted. The question of arrousements and the time limit for the ministers were both the subject of reform proposals, but these, as well as other questions of deeper importance, were submitted to the standing committee of the conference for thorough consideration.

The scene on the conference floor was even more animated than that of the opening morning, when the provisional delegates were admitted to seats. Half a hundred delegates might be seen on their feet at once, clamoring for the recognition of the chairman, and the debates were sharp, quick and exciting.

To Crown a Negro Bishop.

A negro bishop of unlimited authority and the widest jurisdiction will be one of the creations of the conference. He will have the rights and prerogatives of any member of the present board. Dr. John N. E. Brown, acting president of Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Ga., who was given a large complimentary vote in the episcopal elections of 1896 and was chosen secretary of the committee on episcopacy yesterday, is slated for the place. He will be the first negro bishop in the Methodist church.

BISHOPS ARE TAKEN TO TASK

Methodist Laymen Would Limit Their Emoluments.

Chicago, May 5.—"For a bishop to write, when invited to attend the dedication of a church, that he will come for so much money and for no less, is, I declare before high heaven, a prostitution of a most sacred calling."

These words uttered from the rostrum by the Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley of New York, were the keynote of a long and stormy debate in the Methodist general conference yesterday on the subject of bishops and other officials of the conference making money "on the side," by preaching at church dedications and college commencements and on similar occasions for big fees.

Stirring Question Is Up.

The conference dropped suddenly into the midst of the stirring questions that are to come before it, when, among the memorials presented there came from Clayton W. Wilson of Iowa a resolution denying to bishops and other general conference officers some of the emoluments they have been receiving in their offices. The question came to debate and final settlement on the floor, and the resolution was almost unanimously adopted. The bishops, who have no voice in the conference debates, sat on the platform and heard in silence criticisms and defenses of themselves as the delegates discussed the issue. The resolution as finally adopted was as follows: "Resolved, That no bishop or general conference officer should receive anything above actual expenses for his services in the dedication and reopening of churches, attending commencements of our educational institutions, and such other like services as he may render the church." Upon this question the house divided, the majority being in favor of placing this safeguard over the highest officers of the church. Those who objected took the ground that it was an uncalled-for reflection on the bishops and officers. Criticisms of the bishops did not become personal, but ministers in the audience testified that they could not get the services of a bishop in their conferences because of the miscellaneous duties which occupied the bishop. Mr. Wilson included in his motion also a provision that the book committee should compensate the officers of the church liberally. This part was soon withdrawn and the discussion was on the other point. Dr. J. M. Buckley of New York was the first speaker. He said: "For a bishop to refuse a call to attend a church dedication unless he is

POLICY HOLDERS WILLING TO FIGHT

FORTY OR MORE IN JANESVILLE ARE INTERESTED.

Have Again Been Notified to Pay or Law Suits Will Follow.—But One
Has as Yet Made a Final Settlement—Same Matter Has Been Taken Up at Racine.

Local members of the old Northwestern Masonic Aid association who have been threatened with suit if they fail to pay back assessments to the Northwestern Life Association are still holding out in Janesville the greater portion of them being in favor of fighting the matter in the courts before making a settlement. There were about forty members in the Bower City and as yet it is said that but one man has come to the front and made a settlement as asked by the company.

That man is Colin C. MacLean. During the past few days notices have been received by local interested ones that the company now intend to charge interest from the time that the policy holders are first notified to settle.

At Racine many ex policy holders in the company met and decided to fight if the threat was carried into execution. The meeting was adjourned until such time as the suits are actually commenced. The Racine members have been advised by good legal authority that the money cannot be collected.

In the parlors of the Baptist church last evening a calico carnival was held under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society of the church. Calico prevailed on all sides forming even the draperies. Those thus attired were: Mesdames Dunwiddie, Campbell, Eller, Barker, Seales, Brown and Lester and Miss Mary Vankirk.

The reception committee was also attired in odd costumes and the cordial greeting that they extended to everyone made all feel at home. The reception committee was composed of Messrs. and Mesdames J. T. Lloyd, N. Dearborn and A. F. Hall, Mrs. Treat and C. S. Cleland.

Mrs. R. Brand, Mrs. Blanchard and Miss Chapman posed as the three New England sisters. Miss Ella Pratt looked after the apron booth while Mrs. W. B. Conrad and Mrs. F. J. Bailey sold candy. An excellent program followed.

An old fashioned choir, in costume, consisting of Mesdames C. E. Bowles, David Conger, I. A. Whiffin and C. D. Child and Messrs. John Snyder and I. A. Whiffin rendered several selections. Mesdames Maude Young and Mattie Snyder, A. J. Snyder and Fred Grove sang the response.

formerly Governor of South Dakota, but
now a resident of Salem,

"For over two years my daughter had been declining from a strong, healthy, rosy-cheeked girl to a pale, weak and helpless invalid. She was afflicted with terrible headaches, and gradually grew weaker and more languid, apparently without cause. I tried several doctors, but all without avail. One day to please a friend, I bought a box of

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and to our surprise, before it was used up her headaches ceased, the color began to return to her cheeks and lips and her strength began to assert itself. I bought five boxes more, and by the time she had finished them she was completely restored, and to-day she is a robust, rosy, healthy girl, instead of a pale, tired and sickly one."

paid a certain sum I declare I will be high heaven and in the presence of this great conference is a prostitution of a most high calling." Dr. Buckley, as editor of the New York Christian Advocate, is a "conference officer." He explained that he did not expect perquisites. He said that there were honest perquisites, and upon hearing the word "honest" repeated ironically he turned upon the speaker and insisted that in the ministerial profession there are honest perquisites. He then discussed marriage fees.

Ira S. Locke of Portland, Me., made one of the most radical speeches. "In twenty-five years," he said, "there has been a bishop in our conference just four times, outside of attendance at annual conferences. Why are we not increasing in numbers? Because our bishops have miscellaneous duties." J.
H. Potts, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, an Independent Methodist paper, said he had recently been severely criticized by one of the bishops for allowing a letter to appear in his paper calling attention to this state of affairs. He had letters, he said, showing that the editors of the official papers had refused to print such criticisms. Excitement during this discussion reached the highest point manifested so far in the conference. There were speakers who said it was known that the bishops had received emoluments. From the bishops' standpoint nothing was heard after the session was over. Bishop Merrill then expressed himself in an interview as follows: "The expenses of the bishops in traveling to dedications and commencements at denominational colleges should be paid out of the general church treasury. By this plan weaker churches and organizations would have no cause to complain that they are neglected by the general superintendents." The small church needs the help of the bishop in its dedication;
more than a larger one. Extra fees that I may have had have hardly more than balanced extra expenses."

Presiding Elder Frank Hardin of the Rock River conference took the position that the bishops and book agents are not the real sinners. The ministers, he said, who offer these "bribes" to the bishops and officers should be looked after.

The condition of the official papers of the church will be thoroughly investigated by a committee appointed in the morning at the general session.
The conference expressed itself on the Sunday question by adopting a resolution recognizing with gratitude the action of the president of the United States in directing that American exhibits at the Paris exposition be closed on Sunday. The investigation into the condition of theological seminaries undoubtedly will bring out a fight between the conservatives and progressives, centered about Prof. H. C.
Mitchell of Boston university, who is being objected to because of his leaning toward higher criticism.

The storm centers during this conference, as in previous conferences, are the committees on episcopacy, book concern, Epworth league and itiner-ancy.

Various standing committees were organized during the afternoon as follows:

On Itinerancy—Chairman, Dr. S. F.
Upham; secretary, H. T. Decker.
On State of Church—Chairman, ex-Gov. R. E. Pattison; secretary, the Rev. E. J. Gray.
On Revisals—Chairman, Dr. J. E. C.
Sawyer, Troy, N. Y.; secretary, Charles
A. Goss, northern Nebraska.
On Temperance—Chairman, Prof.
Samuel J. Dickey of Michigan; secretary, T. W. Bashford, Ohio.
On Episcopacy—Chairman, Dr. J. M.
Buckley, New York; secretary, J. W.
E. Bowen, Georgia.

On Epworth League—Chairman,
Royal S. Copeland, Michigan; secretary, J. Irving Penn, Atlanta.

On Temporal Economy—Chairman,
Dr. J. M. King, New York; secretary,
Prof. Solon C. Bronson, Evanston.

The Sunday School Union and Tract society held an anniversary meeting in Studebaker Hall. The evening was devoted to addresses on the Sunday school and on tracts, which proved far from dry.

The spectacle was one of imposing splendor. Opposite the beautiful Bran-had been erected a picturesque arch of

HAS INSIDE TRACK.

The Chicago Record prints a special dispatch, under a Delavan date, saying:

"A former Illinois farmer boy, after a ward a Chicago law student, seems to have the inside track for the republican nomination for governor of the state of Wisconsin. He is John M. Whitehead of Janesville and the 34th congressional district has endorsed his candidacy."

"It is claimed that the republican state central committee has conceded that the nomination should go to the southern part of the state. The 1st district, which Whitehead will control, will have 112 votes in the convention."

It is generally conceded by the astute politicians that Senator Whitehead is a strong factor in the race, and his prospects could scarcely be brighter. Every day brings him new support and his friends are scattered all over the state. His splendid legislative record and strong personality stand out boldly, and the people are with him. The first congressional district, and Rock county should be proud of the showing made by Senator Whitehead. Although he was the last to enter the field, competent judges hold that he is now first on the list as to strength, and the entire district should and will be solidly arrayed in his support. With an ideal candidate, the prestige of 112 votes in the convention, and the district's valid claim to recognition, it would certainly appear that the republicans of Southern Wisconsin have the key to the situation.

Charles Horn, constable, says the lights were out when he received the injuries upon which he bases his suit for damages. As the city pays for the lights at a set price, there is no rebate when the lights are out and citizens fall in the dark. Buy the current through a meter—no light no pay—and when citizens are injured because they cannot see where they are going, we will at least have the satisfaction of knowing that we are not paying for a light that we did not get.

Whitewater Register—The Milwaukee Journal declares that the republican party of Wisconsin is suffering for a leader. It has been said that that people is best governed that is governed least. Perhaps the truth of the epigram may depend upon the character of the people to be governed. In any case, however, we are inclined to think that the republican party of Wisconsin is leaded the best when it is leaded the least.

When it was opposing a police force, The Recorder said it "would go square ly on record in favor of lower taxation." Now it asks "shall we be deprived of the comforts of a city in order to please a few people, and the mutterings of a few heavy property holders?" How much are the opinions of the here-today-and-there-tomorrow fellows worth?

The Milwaukee Sentinel speculates on the possibility of trouble in the future if some fond mamma should "spank her hopeful with a shingle that didn't bear the union label. Do not worry, Mr. Sentinel. Whenever the fond mamma raises the shingle, there will be a strike, label or no label.

And now comes Charles Horn, constable, suing the city for damages, because of injuries, charging that he ran into a stairway because the night was dark, and the electric lights were out. Twelve thousand dollars a year ought to light the city so brilliantly that no such damage suits would be possible.

The aldermen who fear to remove a few electric lights "because people will complain" are willing to face any amount of criticism for keeping an extravagant number in service. Why? Is it "not a poor rule that will not work both ways?"

The suggestion has been made that a Citizens' League be organized to look into municipal matters, and make public reports. Undoubtedly such a league would find plenty of things to report on, and we are not sure that the plan would not be a good one.

The people who argued that the city could not afford to incur $2,000 a year additional expense to provide an efficient police force are hardly consistent in favoring a $12,000 lighting contract. From half to two-thirds of that amount will light the city brilliantly.

As Senator Whitehead is a graduate of the famous college, and "holds the key to the situation," we are hourly expecting some "esteemed contemporary" to make a remark to the effect that he "has the nomination fastened down with a Yale lock."

Right wrongs no man. Protect the interests of the people and remember that "a public office is a public trust."

Stick to your "lower taxation" contentions, gentlemen, or forever hold your peace.

HE WINS NOTABLE FIGHT.

Judge Haney the Probable Republican Candidate for Governor.

Chicago, May 5.—Judge Haney has won the gubernatorial contest in Cook county. He had 338 delegates certain this morning and his managers claim 400 or more when they go to Peoria. Three hundred are enough to secure the nomination.

The Lorimer-Smyth machine won the county fight, controlling 742 of 1,115 delegates. They agreed in caucus at 5 o'clock this morning to postpone the county convention until after the state convention. A fight of extermination against Pease-Hertz-Busse-Raymond-Carter and their allies will be carried on until after the state and county conventions are held.

JUDGE HANEY.

Advices from state leaders at 4 o'clock stated that Judge Haney will be nominated even if he brings no more than 300 Cook county delegates to Peoria. Congressman Henry S. Boutell was renominated in the Sixth district at a convention held at North Side Turner hall this morning. George Struckman and Stacy W. Osgood nominated for the state legislature from the seventh senatorial district.

FIRE MEMORIAL IS DEDICATED

Chapel Marks the Site of the Bazaar Disaster in Paris.

Paris, May 5.—The chapel on the Rue Jean Goujon, built in memory of the victims of the charity bazaar fire, was dedicated this morning by Cardinal Richard, archbishop of Paris. The ceremony was deeply impressive. Just two years ago today the terrible fire broke out in the crowded bazaar, causing one of the most terrible tragedies Paris has ever known. On the spot where the catastrophe took place now stands a handsome little chapel, whose dome is surmounted by a golden statue of St. John. The building only holds between 300 and 400 persons. Thus very few were admitted this morning. The family of each victim of the fire received two tickets. Several hundreds of people waited in the narrow street to see the heavily veiled mourners enter the little chapel. The mourners were followed by nuns, who took the places during the service of those who had been praying in the chapel since early morning.

She Married the Hat.

A European government servant was recently married to a native woman in Samarang by the Mohammedan ceremony. It took place in the masjid, and it was conducted by the pengulu, but the bridegroom was not present. He had given written notice that he would not put in an appearance, but he sent his hat, and that was, according to native custom, quite sufficient. She married the hat.

BOXING IN NEW YORK

Horton Law Obviates New Licences—Police Called Off—Jeffries-Corbett Match May 14.

New York, May 5.—Boxing has triumphed over the police board and the will be fought in plenty in New York until Sept. 1, when the Horton law will die officially.

When George Considine, manager of the Broadway Athletic club, and two boxers were brought up for trial today for being concerned in a boxing bout, for which no license had been granted, District Attorney Daniel O'Reilly asked for their discharge, declaring that according to the belief of the district attorney's office licenses were not required by incorporated clubs.

Immediately after the decision was rendered the managers of the Coney Island Athletic club started to post their bill boards announcing the Corbett-Jeffries fight, which is scheduled to take place May 14. Corbett and Jeffries have been training hard for the battle, expecting that the matter would be settled at any time, and as a result are in good condition to fight on the scheduled date.

Joe Walcott gained a decision over "Mysterious" Billy Smith at the close of a hard twenty five round contest at the Broadway Athletic club last night. This was the fourth meeting between O'Rourke's chunky negro and the "Mysterious," two draws and a verdict for Smith having been recorded in former bouts.

TALES FROM THE FRONT

Some Grim Realities of the Anglo-Boer War.

STRENGTH OF BOER CONVICTIONS.

Views of an Old Fighting Burgher Who Helped to Corner Jameson and His Men—Sights on the Road to Kimberley—How Boers Helped to Bury the Saxfords.

One of the London Daily News war correspondents, in the course of a private letter to a friend, gives some vivid pictures of the realities of war under modern conditions. "In former days," he writes, "the enemy could be seen, the smoke could be seen, and the rifle had to be reloaded after every shot. At 1,000 yards you were in comparative safety, and the infantry, after receiving one volley, could charge, knowing that until the enemy had loaded again each man was practically safe. Nowadays that is all changed. Nothing is seen—no man, no smoke. The only thing seen is the dust thrown up by the bullets like a mist on the surface of a lake, the artillery throwing shell and the shells bursting. In contrast to this is the noise, which is infernal. With occasional lulls, it sounds as if a million kettledrums were being played, a constant tra-ra-ra, with the boom, boom, of the big guns and the harsher sound of the Maxim, Hotchkiss, Maxima-Nordenfledts and machine guns in general. The discord is appalling, as every gun has a different sound, and each shell going through the air hums and whistles according to its breed. After a time you can tell what is coming or, if it is one of your own, what is going.

"The most terrifying of the enemy's guns is a sort of Hotchkiss, which fires about five rounds a time and throws a one pound shell, which bursts. You are safe now, as a bullet fired at an object at 800 yards which misses hits and kills at 2,000 or 5,000 yards. It practically means with these rifles that a bullet is never spent until it hits something and remains there. When a bullet strikes, you hear nothing. It goes right through a man and probably travels on another 2,000 yards. You hear a grunt or a gasp, and the man collapses and doubles up. Sometimes, if hit in the arm or leg, he spins around and falls and probably gets up again, as it is only the shock which knocks him down, and he hardly feels it. At Modder river I went down with three guns of the Eighteenth battery to within 1,300 yards and saw five men go over one after the other, but only one killed.

"The worst thing if a bullet wound in the stomach, which is mortal. The pain is excruciating, as they howl like a shot hare; it sounds like a child screaming, and is horrible, but you see such a lot of beastly sights and hear such a lot of heartrending sounds that you become accustomed to it and callous. I found a wounded Boer at Magerfontein who was set evidently while lying down, through the top of the head, above the right ear. The bullet had traveled through his head and out of the back of his jaw on the left side. It had then broken his collar bone and taken a turn, traveled round his ribs and out at his side. It was not pretty to look at, but did not seem much the worse, and while I gave him water he explained to me the purpose of the bullet. Some of the Boers are perfectly marvelous. I suppose after the thing is over the doctors will publish some of the extraordinary cases which have passed through their hands."

The same correspondent gives an exceptionally dramatic insight into the strength of Boer convictions upon the war. He says:

"Many a time I was told to remember the Jameson raid and the matter in which the Boers treated not only the leader of that band of adventurers but the men also. 'Look here,' said one of the fighting men to me, as he leaned with negligent grace on his rifle. 'I was one of those who helped to corner Jameson and his men, and I can tell you that we Boers knew very well that we would have been acting within our rights if we had shot Jameson and every man he had with him, because his was not an act of war; it was an act of piracy, and had we done so and England had attempted to avenge the deed half the civilized world would have ranged themselves on our side, but we did not seek those men's blood; we gave them quarter as soon as they asked for it, and after that, though we knew very well they had done all that men could do to involve us in a war of extermination with a great nation, we sent their leader home to his own country to be tried by his own countrymen, and this rank and file we forgave freely. We may be a nation of white savages, but our past does not prove it, and if Britain wins in the war now going on she will have to be very generous indeed before we will need to blush for our conduct.

"Why should we live under any flag but our own? The old fighting man said passionately. 'We came here and found the country a wilderness in the hands of savages; we fought our way into the land step by step, holding our own with our rifles; we had to live lives of fearful hardships, facing wild beasts and wilder men; we won with the strong hand the land we live in. Why should we bow our necks to Britain's yoke, even if it be a yoke of silk? And as he spoke a murmur of deep and earnest sympathy ran through the ranks of the Boers who were standing around him.

"You, of course, blame the colonials, Australians and others for coming to fight against you?" I asked.

"I don't know that I do or that my people do, in a sense, the veteran replied. 'It all depends on the spirit which animated them. If you Australians, who are of British blood, came here to fight for your motherland, believing that her cause was a just and holy one and that she needed your aid, you did right, for a son will help his mother if he be a son worth having. But if the Australians came here merely for the sake of adventure, merely for sport, as men come in time of peace to shoot buck on the veldt, then were to that land, for, though God may make no sign today nor tomorrow, yet in his own time he will surely bring from Australia a full recompense in sweat and blood and tears, for whether we be right or wrong our God knows that we are giving our lives freely for what we in our hearts believe to be a holy cause.'

On a ride to Kimberley Charles E. Hands of the London Daily Mail passed over the battlefield of Driefontein, where a week before a hundred dead Boers were buried. He writes:

"I encountered a Kimberley Light horseman, who has come across the country along the line of the fighting. 'Come on a pretty sight up there,' he said, jerking his thumb backward at the ridges from which the Essex and Yorks and Welsh drove the enemy. 'What was that?' I asked. 'Sixteen dead Boers,' he said. 'All in a lovely heap.' 'Unburied?' I asked. 'They'd buried 'em after a style,' he said. 'Buried 'em in a shallow hole and chucked some stones over 'em. But I suppose, what with one thing and another, they've moved, and the stones have rolled off 'em, and now there's heads and toes and bits of 'em sticking out.' 'You are sure they are Boers?' I asked. 'Lord,' he said. 'I could tell that a mile off. Besides, I looked at their trousers.'

"Behind every kopje was the straw and litter of a Boer laager. Our camps were marked by the hundreds of empty biscuit cans, which shone like quicksilver in the bright, clear sunlight. And all along the road from Abraham's kraal to Poplar grove, from Poplar grove to Oostfontein, where I crossed the river at Cronje's laager drift, were horses—dead horses, with their skins parched dry with the sun and big holes in their sides, through which you could see emptiness—the clouds of vultures accounted for the emptiness of the carcasses. But, though dead and sun dried and vulture emptied, the horses' necks and eyeless heads were stretched out always with a pathetic sort of suggestion of the agony of death."

Frank Lewis, a reservist hailing from Annamond, Carmarthenshire, writes from Rensburg giving some details of the disastrous fight in which the Saxfords suffered so severely, says the London Leader. "Two hundred and eighty men went into action against them," he says, "but only one officer and six men have returned as yet. The colonel was shot—he had the top of his head blown off—and the adjutant, no one could recognize him. We obtained the body of the colonel from the enemy under a flag of truce, and many of the Boers came down and assisted us to bury our dead and sang hymns in Dutch over the graves. It put me in mind of dear old Wales. They said they were sorry to see the Dutch and English at war with each other and pitied us, but the big people in London were to blame."

Petroleum Exhibits at Paris.
Professor Mulhry has sent to the Paris exposition, at the invitation of the United States geological survey, 150 specimens of products from petroleum illustrating the composition of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Canadian, California, South American and Japanese petroleum and specimens of nitrogen compounds from California petroleum and sulphur compounds from Canadian petroleum, says the Philadelphia Record. Other specimens illustrate the composition of paraffin.

Loyal Legion at Paris.
Commissioner General Peck has extended an invitation to the military order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, offering to that order the use of a handsome room in the United States National building during the Paris exposition. The invitation has been accepted by the Loyal Legion.

The Sultan and the BIL.
Commander of the Faithful," said the vizier to his chief, "What think you of Uncle Samuel's pressing claim for quick relief?" "I know that he is waiting, with a rather ugly frown, Dangling the pistons in a solid payment down. His waiting with his basket, he has written his receipt. 'Anon't forget, great master, that we haven't any rice!'"

Thence the sultan, darkly scowling, stamped his foot. "I said," he fiercely murmured, "at his claim hoarsely I said. I will make a man, too; I will do both a-hustling o'er the ocean was blue!"

Then the wise old vizier raised his mild and tearful face. "Don't fret, oh, mighty master, that you haven't any rice!"

"Uncle Sam," said the vizier, with a twinkle in his eye, "considers like to Dewey and to Sampson and to Nelson. If they fight with their warships at the city's sacredness, they will be the holy plaster all a-tumbling round the gates. The golden wall will crumble in that rain of deadly fire. For, you know, mighty sultan, that we haven't any rice!"

"They will smite the mosque of Omar; they will crush each minaret; they will pile ragged ruins every arabesque of the city's sacredness, and the sultan, 'at your logic, and in your proof, the harem skipping round without a rice!"

For I'd give you the harem skipping round without a rice!"

If I have to, I will, though I hate to own it. 'Which means,' said the vizier, 'you're a lunatic!' (Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

THE NEW WAISTS.

They Are Stiff as Boards, but They Give the Required Figure.

Everybody can have everything that heart of woman can desire now, for all the things that ever were are now waiting for them to choose from. There are empire dresses and mantles, and there is no end of other things, the chiefest among them being the polonaise and princess shapes and styles.

The polonaise is well adapted to the new shape of the woman in the new corset. With this figure a woman wants a dress that will accentuate the figure, and the princess dresses of the season are made with smooth fronts, and they hang in one unbroken line from top to bottom. The backs fit closely, and the fronts fall in that serpentine outline now so much affected.

The polonaise is like the princess in form, but is not so long and is understood to be only a part of a dress. The skirts worn with the polonaise are of ten of quite different stuff, and the bottom of the skirt is made to flare out as widely as possible. This special garment is for outdoor wear more particularly and looks better in broadcloth than anything, though there are a number of other goods quite suitable, among them silk in the heaviest weaves.

A few of the thick cottons are made in polonaise shape, such as khaki, pique and the thick pebble weaves in the cotton chevrot. Some of these cottons are really very handsome and stylish when made in the approved styles. These are with Eton jackets and short jackets made with almost tailor finish. Being firm, the goods will take a finish which up to now has never been achieved.

All of these cotton goods are washable, and so when they are made the wearer should remember that fact and have whatever trimming is put on them done so that the dress can be ironed without taking the whole business apart. There will always be one or two so called wash dresses in a summer's wardrobe so fancifully trimmed that it will be impossible to have them done up so as "to look anyhow" after. So let the everyday dresses be plain and put as much trimming on the best ones as may be desired.

The khaki cloth is unexpectedly dear, probably on account of the Boer war, and so it is a mark of the bloated bondholder to be able to have one unless the wearer makes her own gowns.

We are told that green is the fashionable color, but where one sees anything made of green one sees a hundred other shades and colors.

There are many things of green, notably the straw hats. These are very suitably trimmed with flowers, more so than with fruit. The sunshine yellow is a factor in trimming many things usually garnished with more sedate color, among them the pretty little capes of black lace which will be worn over the shoulders a little later in the season. These small capes will be of chantilly or some other rather thin black lace. Around the edge of the foundation, which is of plain net, there will be a roll of the sunshine velvet. And it may be put in any other place that suits the designer.

A representative dress was made of striped poplin, and the stripes were blue, matching the stripe in the dress. This was in blouse shape, and there was a Bolero of the poplin and a shirt waist of blue and white percale.

The new fashion in waists is that we must be boned up until we cannot move. The amount of featherbone put in the seams passes belief. No waist is right unless it is stiffer than the traditional board. The corset might as well be entirely absent for that matter, since the waist is boned to such an extent.

The dressmakers are very clever to make women believe that the short corset is so very hygienic that we must pay $12 for one, and then they go and use us in a coat of mail as far as our dress waists are concerned, and the outside of the waist gives no hint of the amount of featherbone on the inside.

SAY MORRIS HEIRS HINDER SETTLEMENT

EDGERTON BANK CASE AGAIN BEFORE THE COURT.

Now Being Heard in This City by Judge Siebecker of Madison—Final Settlement Being Brought by Certain Parties Interested in the Late Isaac Morgan Estate.

In the circuit court of Rock county at 9 o'clock this morning was called the case of C. M. Gager et al vs the Bank of Edgerton. This time the existing trouble is all over a settlement that a short time ago promised to be final and wind up this long drawn out legal complication. The case is now being tried before Judge Siebecker of Madison.

A few weeks ago a special called meeting of the interested attorneys was held in this city and then and there agreed on. But it now appears that there are some who are dissatisfied with the plan of settlement suggested. One of these parties is certain interested heirs in the Isaac Morgan estate at Milton Junction who are now fighting the question before Judge Siebecker through their attorney, E. D. McGowan.

In other words the depositors are trying now to get a judgment against the Morgan estate for their stock liabilities and to perfect a final settlement.

The interested attorneys in today's proceedings are: Thomas Clancy, Madison; Fethers, Jeffries & Mout, Janesville; Olin & Butler, Madison; Jones & Stevens, Madison; John Cunningham, Smith & Pierce and E. D. McGowan Janesville.

ERNEST BYERS HELD FOR TRIAL MAY 11

FOUR WITNESSES WERE EXAMINED THIS MORNING

Judging From the Articles Produced in Court This Morning It Is Evident That Janesville Possesses a Full Fledged Pawn Shop—Attorney Wilson Lane Represented Defendant.

Ernest Byers was before the municipal court this morning on the charge of larceny from F. M. Hibbard. His examination resulted in his being held for trial May 11 at 10 o'clock. Attorney Wilson Lane appeared in behalf of the defendant who was remanded to jail in default of $500 bail.

Byers alleges that he had been working for Mr. Hibbard on the day of his arrest and that Mr. Hibbard was indebted to him in the sum of two dollars; that Mr. Hibbard was holding the articles which it is alleged that Byers stole for $1.90 due Mr. Hibbard by Byers and that Mr. Hibbard consented to Byers taking the goods and settling the account and then afterwards refused to let him have them.

Four witnesses took the stand this morning in behalf of the state. F. M. Hibbard to the lock in the store being forced and how he detected Byers coming from the store. He stated that he accused Byers then and there of taking the property.

Sheriff W. H. Appleby and Clerk A. E. Tanberg testified as to Byers' being previously convicted.

Officer John Brown testified to making the arrest and of finding the stolen property on Byers' person.

WAR TAX WILL NOT BE REMOVED

Congress Does Not Intend to Take Any Action in the Matter at This Session.

Washington, May 5.—Those who had hoped to be relieved of some of the burdens imposed by the war revenue taxes will be disappointed, as it has been definitely decided that nothing will be done towards repealing any sections of the law at this session. As is well known, the ways and means committee is inclined to do something for the relief of the taxpayers, but the Senate Finance committee is opposed to doing anything.

It was intended to have a joint meeting of these committees this week and make an effort to reach an agreement whereby something could be done. This plan has been abandoned, however, and the war revenue act will remain undisturbed on the statute books, at least until next winter.

There is a disposition on the part of congress to adjourn not later than June 15, but some of the leaders are now saying the adjournment will come as early as June 1, and for this reason it has been decided to postpone action.

A ROSE OF DIAMONDS.

W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Has Ordered a Superb Jewel For His Wife.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who was Miss Virginia Fair, has developed a desire for jewels.

Her husband, according to a New York dispatch, to the Philadelphia Press, has just ordered for her a corse ornament in the shape of a huge diamond rose, with a yellow diamond center.

It is being made in Paris and will resemble as nearly as possible an ornament recently worn at Nice by an Austrian grand duchess which was so admired by Mrs. Vanderbilt that her husband gave an order to have duplicated.

It is rumored that Mrs. Vanderbilt is to surpass the collections of Mrs. J. J. Astor and Mrs. William Astor.

It is said the ornament William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., has ordered for his wife will cost more than any jewel given by a husband to a wife within recent years with the exception of the arm band presented a few years ago by Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany to the empress.

To Meet Suez Canal Rates.
 San Francisco, May 5.—The oriental agents of the various transpacific steamship companies have agreed in conference to act jointly in the future in making rates against the Suez canal, agents in China acting as one body and the agents in Japan as another. The object will be to always meet all rates, but not to cut them more than enough to get the business. No agreement has yet been reached in regard to incoming cargoes.

No More Plague at Honolulu.
 San Francisco, May 5.—The steamer Coptic, which has arrived from the Orient via Honolulu, is in quarantine. Last Friday, when the vessel sailed from Honolulu, there has been no new cases of plague for twenty-five days, and the quarantine that has been on the port since the middle of last December was to have been raised last Monday by the Honolulu board of health, provided no more cases of plague appeared.

Five Tons of Whale on Beach.
 Atlantic City, N. J., May 5.—During a heavy sea a dark-brown whale came ashore at North Brigantine, a few miles north of this place. The mammal was discovered lashing the waves on the water's edge by the government life-saving crew. The whale measures thirty-five feet in length, and weighs at least five tons. It came ashore alive, but died later in the day. No one as yet has taken charge of the dead monster.

Gold Democrats Routed.
 Des Moines, Iowa, May 5.—The advocates of 16 to 1 routed all opposition in the Democratic state convention here. A strong pro silver platform was adopted and the delegates to Kansas City were instructed for Bryan and to vote as a unit on all propositions. The following were elected delegates: For delegates at large to the Kansas City convention—Cato Sells of Vinton, Charles A. Walsh of Ottumwa, John S. Murphy of Dubuque, George Baker of Davenport, Altersates—Edward B. Evans of Des Moines, Avan Wagenen of Sioux City, L. T. Genung of Mills county, Daniel P. Stubbs of Fairfield.

Dr. Vincent's Violent Death.
 Detroit, Mich., May 5.—Dr. Edward E. Vincent was run down and killed by a trolley car while trying to cross the tracks on his bicycle. So tightly was his body pinned under the framework of the forward car truck that a lifting jack was required to release it. His wife, daughter of Dr. George Harding of Chicago, called at the morgue, but was not permitted to see the body. Dr. Vincent's father is living in Springfield, Ill., and his brother is Judge Vincent of Chicago. In 1893 Dr. Vincent was surgeon to the expedition of Lieutenant Peary and was with him in the arctic regions for two years.

Wisconsin Forest Fires.
 Wausau, Wis., May 5.—The forest fire which has been raging in the woods surrounding this city during the last week is daily becoming more alarming, and rain is anxiously looked for to check the destruction of valuable standing timber. The farmers residing near the fire have their household goods packed up and each night have some member keeping watch so that a timely escape can be made if the fire reaches their houses. The village of Hatley, ten miles east, was saved from destruction by the fire department of Wausau. The fire which threatened the village of Mosinee is now under control, as is also the fire in the swamps between Mosinee and Marathon City.

Snow at Ashtabula, Ohio.
 Ashtabula, Ohio, May 5.—Snow has fallen and ice formed in this section of Ohio. Fruit growers, however, state positively that the peach crop is not injured seriously.

Allotment.

The great success attained since 1887 by Siegel, Cooper & Co. has induced and given warrant to the enterprising owners to further ingratiate themselves into public favor by consolidating their two mammoth establishments into a co-operative enterprise on a profit-sharing basis. They recognize the tendency of the present age to be in the direction of co-operation of employers with employees, as well as in profit-sharing with patrons.

To accomplish this desired condition a new company, the Siegel-Cooper Co. (Co-operative Stores, New York and Chicago), has been incorporated under the laws of the State of New Jersey, with a capital stock of $24,000,000, of which $14,250,000 is divided into 285,000 shares 6% cumulative Preferred Stock of $50.00 par value, and $9,750,000 into 195,000 shares Common Stock of $50.00 par value.

The charter of the Company provides that after full dividends of 6% per annum have been paid on the Preferred Stock, and full dividends of 3% per annum have been paid on the Common Stock, all additional dividends shall be apportioned and paid on the basis of $\frac{1}{3}$ in amount on the Preferred Stock and $\frac{2}{3}$ in amount on the Common Stock.

To carry out the plan of co-operation with its employees, $2,000,000 of the Common Stock has been placed in trust, the annual dividends of which will be distributed among such employees as have been or may hereafter be with the New York or Chicago establishment for a period of three years, during their satisfactory continuance in the service of the new Company; such dividends will also be continued and paid to employees for life who, after ten years of service with the new Company, become incapacitated for further employment, thereby practically providing a pension fund for faithful employees in their old age.

To carry out the plan of Profit Sharing it is proposed by the present owners, who are the owners of all the stock of the new company, to offer to the public through the undersigned 200,000 shares (fully paid and non-assessable) of the 6% cumulative Preferred Stock at par; upon which the full 6% dividend must always be paid before the Common Stock receives any dividend whatever, the Preferred Stock also having a prior right to all the assets of the company.

In order to give double assurance to the general public, whom it is desired to interest as stockholders (instead of speculators) and who may not be fully conversant with such investments, the money required to pay dividends on said 200,000 shares has been set aside and will remain on deposit with the Central Trust Company of New York and the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago respectively to secure the dividend of 6% per annum, payable 3% semi-annually, for a period of five years, i. e., until July 1st, 1905, on all such Preferred Stock as may be allotted in their respective territories, and each certificate of stock so allotted will have an indorsement by said Trust companies respectively to that effect. We thereby offer not only an absolutely safe 6% investment, but one which will without question yield considerably more.

Under no circumstances will any of the Preferred Stock not so allotted, nor any of the Common Stock, be sold, the present owners having no desire to sell out, but intending to remain with the business; they will therefore not part with any more stock than they believe necessary to fully carry out their plans for co-operation and profit-sharing, as previously stated.

The owners confidently believe that, by inaugurating the liberal policy above outlined towards their employees, they will in return be rewarded by more faithful service and courteous attention to patrons, the result of which must be beneficial to the new company, as well as augment the continued good will of the public.

Furthermore, it can be calculated to a certainty that with many thousands of new stockholders exerting their personal influence toward the success and welfare of the business larger patronage and correspondingly greater earnings for the new company will be assured. It is from the increased benefits and material advantages which these changed conditions are expected to bring about that the present owners feel confident of better pro-rata remuneration on the stock which they retain and in a measure justifies them in parting with any portion of their interests in an established and exceptionally profitable business.

The SIEGEL-COOPER CO. Co-operative Stores will take possession Monday, July 2d, 1900, of the two great department stores of Siegel-Cooper Co., New York, and Siegel, Cooper & Co., Chicago, in their entirety, covering a floor space of over thirty acres, with their millions of dollars' worth of Merchandise, Store Fixtures, Delivery Plants (consisting of many hundreds of Horses, Wagons, etc.), Machinery, extensive Stable Properties and all appurtenances required for the complete operation of the two stores, and also its palatial fireproof store building and real estate in New York City which alone represents an asset of many millions of dollars, free of all encumbrances or indebtedness whatever, so that the Siegel-Cooper Co. (Co-operative Stores, New York and Chicago) will start its career without owing a single dollar.

For the good and sufficient reason of not wishing to divulge the details of our business to our competitors we present no balance sheet for publication. We do not, however, desire to ask our patrons or the public to rely exclusively on our representations, and therefore the money required has been set aside and will remain on deposit with the above named Trust Companies to absolutely secure the dividends on all the Preferred stock to be allotted as stated. Moreover, we allude with pride to the fact that the Chicago establishment has since its inception paid millions of dollars in dividends to its stockholders, and that the New York establishment, while only in its fourth year, is not only doing a larger business than the Chicago store, but is also on a most profitable dividend paying basis. We can also say for the benefit of subscribers that the net earnings of our two establishments for the past year were largely in excess of the amount required to pay the dividends on all the Preferred Stock of the new company.

There will be no change in the management, and the same men who thirteen years ago started the original Siegel, Cooper & Co. store in Chicago (and later its sister store in New York), and who have achieved a success almost without parallel in modern retailing, have pledged themselves to continue in the management of the business of the new company the same as in the past, and they will deposit with the Central Trust Company of New York all of their stock holdings for a term of years to secure such pledge.

Subscriptions for the 200,000 shares of the Preferred Stock will be received in person or by mail on blank forms provided for that purpose at the office of Siegel, Cooper & Co., Chicago, beginning at 10 A. M., Monday, May 7th, 1900, and will continue for a period of one week; the right, however, is reserved to close subscriptions upon one day's notice in any one of the Chicago daily papers.

All subscriptions must be accompanied by money, check, money order or draft payable to Siegel-Cooper Co. to the amount of 30% of such subscriptions (equal to $10.00 per share), for which proper receipts will be given.

Notice will be given as soon as practicable of the number of shares allotted to each subscriber, and the balance due must be paid to the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, corner La Salle street and Jackson boulevard, Chicago, as agent of the vendors, on or before July 5, 1900, and said bank will thereupon make delivery of the stock delivered to it for that purpose, pursuant to the allotments thereof.

With a view of extending the benefits of our offer to as many of our patrons and the public as possible it is proposed to allot the stock in the following order, namely:

1st—To all subscriptions for one share.
 2d—To all subscriptions for two shares.
 3d—To all subscriptions for three shares.
 And to continue in the same order for larger subscriptions until the entire 200,000 shares have been allotted.

Respectfully,
 SIEGEL-COOPER CO.

Love is the corner-stone of a woman's life. She builds all her hopes upon and around those tender affections which she cherishes toward the ones who are dear to her, and which she looks to receive from them in return.

This is woman's nature; it is the God-given instinct that makes her a fond and tender sweetheart; a comforting, helpful wife; an ever-loving, solicitous, care-taking mother.

When a woman feels that the responsibilities and duties of wifehood and motherhood have become irksome to her, a burden and trouble rather than a source of uplifting and inspiration—it shows that there is some deficiency in her physical make-up; some abnormal and unhealthy condition of the delicate and important special structure of womanhood.

Many thousands of women annually write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the eminent specialist in women's diseases requesting special advice—which he is always glad to send without charge—and telling him of the marvelous benefits they have received from his wonderful "Favorite Prescription" in building up their special health and physical energy.

"I would like to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I have received from your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. H. C. Anderson, of South Britain, New Haven, Conn. "During the first month of my pregnancy I could not keep anything on my stomach. I was so sick that I had to go to bed and stay for weeks."

"I tried different doctors, but with little benefit. I read about many being helped by using your medicine so I thought I would give it a trial. I began to take 'Favorite Prescription' in November and I had a nice little baby girl in February following. My baby weighed over eight pounds. I was only in bed about one hour and got along nicely during confinement; was up and dressed on the eighth day."

"The 'Favorite Prescription' helped me wonderfully. It kept me from having a miscarriage. This makes my second child; with the first one I did not take 'Favorite Prescription' and I had a miscarriage. This last baby is as plump and healthy as any mother could wish."

THE NEW ARMY BILL PASSES

Measure Which Revolutionizes Present Staff Arrangements.

SENATE DEBATE QUITE BRIEF.

Progress on Sunday Civil Bill—President McKinley Names Several New Officers—Dole as Governor of Hawaii—He Goes to Go to Japan.

Washington, May 5.—The session of the senate was rendered especially notable by the passage, after a debate lasting only three hours, of a military reorganization bill. In military circles the measure is regarded as one of the most important of the present session. It practically revolutionizes the present staff arrangements of the army. It proposes to change the present system of permanent appointments in certain staff corps to one of detail by a gradual process, as the officers now in those corps go out of active service. As vacancies occur in the departments of the adjutant-general, the inspector-general, quartermaster-general and commissary-general they are to be filled by details from the line, the details to be temporary and not to exceed four years. The new system is not applied to the corps of engineers, medical department, pay department or judge-advocate general's department. The bill discontinues the regimental organization of the artillery and establishes an artillery corps of two branches—viz., 126 batteries of coast artillery and eighteen batteries of field artillery, with a total of 17,443 men. It provides for an increase of 100 in the corps of cadets at West Point, two at large from each state and ten more to the present number of twenty from the United States at large. The rank of the commanding general of the army is raised to that of lieutenant-general, and that of the adjutant-general to major-general, the latter being during the incumbency of the present adjutant-general, Gen. Corbin. The president is empowered to place on the retired list any officer who has been suspended from duty by sentence of court-martial or by legislative order in mitigation of such sentence, for a period extending to or within one year of the time of his compulsory retirement for age. This is well understood to apply to Commissary-General Eagan. An amendment creating a veterinary corps for the army, consisting of a colonel and thirty-five other commissioned officers, was attached to the bill after a spirited debate, the amendment being adopted by a vote of 25 to 23. The fortifications appropriation bill, carrying about $7,500,000, was passed.

The resolutions offered by Mr. Teller (Col.) expressing sympathy for the Boers, was taken up Saturday.

Progress of Sunday Civil Bill. Washington, May 5.—The house made fair progress with the sundry civil appropriation bill, completing 73 of the 132 pages of the measure. Much of the time was consumed in an effort of the members of the naval committee to cripple the coast and geodetic survey in retaliation for the refusal of the house to agree with their recommendation, when the naval bill was before the house, to place the survey of the waters of our insular possessions in the hands of the navy.

New Consul-General for Japan.

Washington, May 5.—The president has sent the following nominations to the senate: E. C. Bellows of Washington, to be consul-general at Yokohama, Japan; Lieutenant-Commander Samuel C. Lemly, U. S. N., of North Carolina, to be judge-advocate general of the navy, with rank of captain for the term of four years from June 1, 1900. Sanford B. Dole, of Hawaii, to be governor of Hawaii; Henry E. Cooper of Hawaii, to be secretary of Hawaii.

Advocate Revenue Tax Report. Washington, May 5.—President Charles G. Wilson and other representatives of the consolidated stock exchange of New York appeared before the house ways and means committee in advocacy of the repeal of the war-revenue act, and particularly the tax on transactions in stocks and on exchange.

GUAM IS ON A PAYING BASIS.

Surplus of Mexican Dollars in the Treasury.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Gov. Leary has sent to the navy department another of his characteristic official reports about affairs in Guam, including the results of a thorough census taken under his direction and a financial statement of the first six months of his administration, which shows a gratifying and growing surplus of Mexican dollars in the island treasury. American money has not yet entered into circulation in Guam, and the figures in the balance sheet represent the silver currency left there by the Spaniards. The amount in the treasury on July 1, 1899, was $2,171. The receipts from July 1, 1899, to Jan. 1 last were $9,415, and the expenditures for the same period were $6,767, leaving in the treasury on Jan. 1, 1900, $4,819. The receipts will not be so large for the remainder of the fiscal year, as the tax on marriage licenses will not be so productive, but the expenses will be proportionately reduced, as many of the improvements have been completed. The governor reports that the evaporating plant is in excellent condition, but he is still without an ice machine, with the hot weather almost at hand. The steam sawmill has been erected and was ready for work. A telephone system had been installed and was in successful operation between Agaña, the capital, and Piti, the port. The officers of the Yosemite were still engaged on the topographical survey of the island, which would have been finished in a few months. In fact, all was well at Guam, and life there would be perfect with a refrigerating plant and a good library. Gov. Leary explains to the department that his request for a library did not contemplate a circulating affair for fiction. He needed an encyclopedia, a set of revised statutes, some law books and other reference works indispensable to his office. Some books of this sort were in the library of the Yosemite, but the ship was seven miles from the capital over a shadeless road and it was exasperating to make the trip whenever a question of local administration arose. The tabulated enumeration of the population of Guam has been forwarded by the secretary of the navy to the director of the census, to be included in the total of the United States. It shows that Guam had a population of 8,661 persons on Jan. 1 last. Of these 5,249 lived in the capital city of Agaña. In the district of Agaña are five villages, which, with their populations, are: Aniga, 148; Asan, 255; Tehungan, 200; Sinahana 144, and Carolinas, 90. The five towns on the island outside of the district of Agaña, with their totals, are: Agat 744; Sumay, 568; Umatta, 236; Morizo 491; Inarahan, 518. Of the total population of the island, 3,128 are males over 7 years old, 3,680 are females over 7 years, and 1,853 are children under 7 years. Gov. Leary says nothing about the state of health on the island, but from the requisitions for medicines and surgical supplies, the natives are evidently patronizing the naval medical officers with an astonishing variety of complaints.

Sandon, a Mining Town, Burns. Victoria, B. C., May 5.—Sandon, a British Columbia mining town, was all but obliterated by fire. The big Reco hotel and the Canadian Pacific railroad station were among the first buildings to go, and then, fanned by a strong wind, the fire climbed up the hills to the residence portion of the town. Sandon, the destroyed town, is situated twenty miles from Kaslo. It is the terminus of the Nakusp & Siccan railway, and has a population of 2,000 people. The big silver mines at Sandon are reported to have lost their offices and plants by the fire.

SHOT DEAD BY A PREACHER.

Prominent South Carolinian Meets Death in a Quarrel.

Bamberg, S. C., May 5.—A marriage without parental consent was the cause of the killing of a prominent young South Carolinian. William P. Bellinger, a court stenographer and the oldest son of John R. Bellinger, a prominent citizen of Bamberg, and who was a candidate for solicitor, was the victim. For some time there has been ill-feeling between Bellinger and the Rev. W. E. Johnson on account of the marriage of Bellinger's daughter, the ceremony of which was performed by the Rev. Mr. Johnson, the Baptist minister at Bamberg. William Bellinger espoused his father's cause. Johnson was in his front garden when William Bellinger passed by on the sidewalk going to his home, which adjoins that of the Rev. Mr. Johnson. Bellinger got out his pistol and fired at Johnson, when Johnson fired with his double-barrel shotgun, killing Bellinger. The latter's pistol had four empty chambers. Johnson is now in jail. Bellinger was 32 years old.

Impure Blood.

Impure blood is a deadly poison. It is blood that becomes charged with the refuse matter and the cast-off products of wasted muscles and tissues. It is blood that is filled with acids, blood that lacks oxygen, and blood that is starved and watery for lack of nourishment. Impure blood clouds the brain, irritates the nerves, disturbs the heart, retards the circulation and clogs up the lungs. It vitiates the appetite, interferes with digestion, destroys the complexion and fills the body with disease.

To cleanse this sluggish stream of contaminating, putrid poison, and transform it into rich, red, bounding life-fluid of health, it is necessary to open up every avenue for the elimination of impurities and force them out of the system. At the same time the appetite should be so stimulated and the digestion so regulated, that the healthful and nutritious substance of the food will take the place of the poisons that are driven out. Nothing yet discovered will do this so thoroughly and so well as

Dr. Miles' Compound Wine of Sarsaparilla.

Is pleasant to take.

It penetrates to the farthest corners of the system and drives out the last vestige of disease. It makes rich, pure blood and sends it to every part of the body, renewing and rejuvenating every fibre and tissue.

Sold by druggists on guarantee.
